

EXHIBIT A

PART 4

EXHIBIT C(7)

5. Steven Moxley
6. Anthony Watkinson
7. John Rodgers
8. Garrett Reynolds
9. Chris Childs
10. Craig Mast
11. Will Love
12. Brad Gethard
13. Zak Earley
14. Hector Garcia
15. Jaimy Spreitzer
16. Garrett Reeves
17. Kevin Kaltenbach
18. Steve Byrnes
19. Brandon Christie
20. Brian Carter
21. Tony Malouf
22. Nathaniel Kiefer
23. Chijioke Okafo
24. Erik Ambrose
25. Charlie Bowers

Am Final Results:

1. Greg McMillan
2. Rich Redmond
3. Darcy Peters
4. David Fitzpatrick
5. Charlie Crumlish
6. Eric Favot
7. Pierre Gauthier
8. Ian Christison
9. Jeremy GAllant
10. Jared Smoke

Girl's Class Final Results:

1. Nina Buitrago
2. Rose Huston
3. Jessica Ausec
4. Angie Marino
5. Maude Lague

JJ> <http://www.actionsportspress.com/?feed=rss2&p=95> <http://www.actionsportspress.com/?p=94>
<http://www.actionsportspress.com/?p=94#comments> Thu, 06 Mar 2008 17:30:31 +0000 admin
<http://www.actionsportspress.com/?p=94> I wouldn't want the Bronx to be pissed at me. The Bronx is a serious place, full of serious people, and has been home to the "King of New York" BMX contest since 1995. I remember, I was there.

Last year I saw a flyer online for the DC King of New York, and remember thinking it was rad DC had signed on as the title sponsor. That was, until the next day when I heard it was a completely different contest.

Danny Parks, the current event organizer for the original King of New York BMX event sent out the following email to members of the industry yesterday explaining the situation. While only one side of the story, I can't argue with his position. After all, I was there in 1995.

+++++

The annual King of New York event was founded in the Bronx by Lou Perez in 1995. Lou ran the event every year until he handed over the reigns to me at baby bean Productions in 2006. With first Lou and now baby bean running the show, the event has gotten better and better, year after year.

In addition to the amazing athletes and enthusiastic crowds at the heart of the King of New York event, a team of great sponsors helps elevate the King of New York to the kick-ass event that it is. Not long ago, baby bean invited clothing and sneaker giant DC Shoes to join the King of New York event family of sponsors. We thought DC Shoes would be a great fit (no pun intended) but unfortunately, DC Shoes completely ignored our invitation.

So it hit us like a ton of bricks when we learned that DC Shoes had stolen the "King of New York" name and concept for its own event. Adding insult to injury, DC Shoes suggested that the "King of New York" event was its own creation!

Now, Lou and I are all about live and let live, and we considered letting DC Shoes slide. But thereâ€™s a problem with that: if we didnâ€™t stop DC Shoes from using the name again, riders and skaters, along with everyone else, would begin to confuse the two events. Which event was which? Who was sponsoring what? Which event is that great event that Lou Perez started way back when? When this happens, everyone loses, most importantly all the people who have put their blood and sweat into supporting the King of New York event since 1995.

So baby bean asked DC Shoes to recognize our rights to the "King of New York" event name and not to use the name "King of New York" for events in the future. DC Shoes refused. So we now find ourselves in the middle of an expensive and stressful law suit against DC Shoes. baby bean didnâ€™t want this fight, we would rather spend our time and resources creating great events. But DC Shoes â€“ now part of Quicksilver, Inc., a company with over two billion dollars in annual sales â€“ decided that it would rather hide behind an expensive team of lawyers than do the right thing.

Itâ€™s sad that a company like DC Shoes, started by snowboarder Ken Block and skateboarder Damon Way as footwear industry outsiders, is really no different than any other big business. Apparently, DC Shoes thinks deep corporate pockets give it the right to roll right over the little guy.

baby bean is going to do its best to make sure the King of New York event stays where itâ€™s supposed to, but itâ€™s not going to be easy. If you'd like to help, or if you just want to express what you think, let us know at dcbullshit@hotmail.com. Pass this e-mail along and spread the truth. If you want to call DC Shoes or Quiksilver yourself, go right ahead. Phone numbers are 760-599-2999 for DC and 714-889-2200 for Quiksilver. Thanks for listening.

Danny Parks
baby bean productions

J]> <http://www.actionsportspress.com/?feed=rss2&p=94> <http://www.actionsportspress.com/?p=93>#comments Mon, 25 Feb 2008 22:30:57 +0000 admin <http://www.actionsportspress.com/?p=93> The eighth annual Bicycle Film Festival deadline for entries has been extend to March 7, 2008.

Check it out!

]]> <http://www.actionsportspress.com/?feed=rss2&p=93> <http://www.actionsportspress.com/?p=92>#comments Mon, 25 Feb 2008 22:21:07 +0000 admin <http://www.actionsportspress.com/?p=92> Enlightened, an action sports photo show in Toronto, Ontario has posted a call for entries. If you're a photographer, you might want to check this one out.

ENLIGHTENED

JULY 2008 IN TORONTO

Official

CALL FOR ENTRY

FOLLOWING LAST YEARS EXPLOSIVE DEBUT AND THE OVERWELMING SUCCESS OF GROSS NEGLIGENCE 2007, ENLIGHTENED WILL ONCE AGAIN HIGHLIGHT SOME OF THE BEST ARTISTS AND PHOTOGRAPHERS INSPIRED BY ACTION SPORTS.

ENLIGHTENED IS NOW OFFICIAL ACCEPTING ENTRIES FOR THE 2008 ART SHOW SCHEDULED FOR THIS JULY AT THE STEAM WHISTLE GALLERY.

FOR DETAILS ON THE SHOW, HOW TO SUBMIT AND A CHANCE TO WIN $1,000 CASH GO TO WWW.ACTIONSPORTSART.COM

]]> <http://www.actionsportspress.com/?feed=rss2&p=92>

EXHIBIT C(8)

We all like some Goods Lovin'

Check it out. This is just one of the many super good things in the new Ride. Check it out here. Hell a Goods rider even graces the cover. Yeah Karl!

Read on.

posted by pdxbmx @ 6:46 PM

0 comments

3.06.2008

Fuck DC Shoes, B!!!

Where do I start? Terrible sneaker styles, a BMX team yet you don't allow bikes in your skateparks, terrible raping of BMX culture just to cash in on our heritage and history? I could go on for days about why I hate DC Shoe Company. Below is another reason to hate them, check it out and make up your own mind.-ben

The annual King of New York event was founded in the Bronx by Lou Perez in 1995. Lou ran the event every year until he handed over the reigns to me at baby bean Productions in 2006. With first Lou and now baby bean running the show, the event has gotten better and better, year after year.

In addition to the amazing athletes and enthusiastic crowds at the heart of the King of New York event, a team of great sponsors helps elevate the King of New York to the kick-ass event that it is. Not long ago, baby bean invited clothing and sneaker giant DC Shoes to join the King of New York event family of sponsors. We thought DC Shoes would be a great fit (no pun intended) but unfortunately, DC Shoes completely ignored our invitation.

So it hit us like a ton of bricks when we learned that DC Shoes had stolen the "King of New York" name and concept for its own event. Adding insult to injury, DC Shoes suggested that the "King of New York" event was its own creation!

Now, Lou and I are all about live and let live, and we considered letting DC Shoes slide. But there's a problem with that: if we didn't stop DC Shoes from using the name again, riders and skaters, along with everyone else, would begin to confuse the two events. Which event was which? Who was sponsoring what? Which event is that great event that Lou Perez started way back when? When this happens, everyone loses, most importantly all the people who have put their blood and sweat into supporting the King of New York event since 1995.

So baby bean asked DC Shoes to recognize our rights to the "King of New York" event name and not to use the name "King of New York" for events in the future. DC Shoes refused. So we now find ourselves in the middle of an expensive and stressful law suit against DC Shoes. baby bean didn't want this fight, we would rather spend our time and resources creating great events. But DC Shoes – now part of Quicksilver, Inc., a company with over two billion dollars in annual sales – decided that it would rather hide behind an expensive team of lawyers than do the right thing.

It's sad that a company like DC Shoes, started by snowboarder Ken Block and skateboarder Damon Way as footwear industry outsiders, is really no different than any other big business. Apparently, DC Shoes thinks deep corporate pockets give it the right to roll right over the little guy.

baby bean is going to do its best to make sure the King of New York event stays where it's supposed to, but it's not going to be easy. If you'd like to help, or if you just want to express what you think, let us know at dcbullshit@hotmail.com. Pass this e-mail along and spread the truth. If you want to call DC Shoes or Quiksilver yourself, go right ahead. Phone numbers are 760-599-2999 for DC and 714-889-2200 for Quiksilver. Thanks for listening.

Danny Parks

baby bean productions

Read on.

posted by pdxbmx @ 12:25 PM

4 comments

Eddie Coastal Video Ad...

Head over to the Lotek site to check out the latest video ad with Eddie for his Coastal Shoe due out in the next few months. Props to Foyer for the hot spot they have going and letting the crew use for the ad. Stop by Rich's blog on Defgrip to check out their store.

Read on.

posted by pdxbmx @ 5:32 PM

0 comments

3.02.2008

Vince Interview...

Looks like Bruce did an interview with Vince for a website called Dagger BMX. Go here to check that out and go here for the Spanish translator I think you will need to view the interview. There are at least some really good pics of Vince to scope if you give up on trying to translate everything.-ben

Read on.

posted by pdxbmx @ 5:18 PM

1 comments

 vincenwc said...

DC is wack

3/06/2008 6:56 PM

 anonymous said...

isn't DC a fagboard oops I mean skateboard company ?

need I say anymore ?

3/07/2008 10:25 AM

 anonymous said...

im going to punk anyone who wheres dc cause quicksilver is lame

3/17/2008 2:31 PM

 max said...

yeah, fuck dc shoes.

and fuck mosh digital brake pads for messing up my rims.

4/24/2008 4:16 PM

Leave your comment

You can use some HTML tags, such as *, ,

Choose an identity

Google/Blogger

USERNAME

PASSWORD

No Google Account? Sign up here.
You can also use your Blogger account.

OpenID

Name/URL

Anonymous

EXHIBIT C(9)

Home > News > Latest > The Truth about DC Shoes and the King of New York

The Truth about DC Shoes and the King of New York

Home

News

Forum

Gallery

Links

Holla

Search

RSS

Written by Iggy
Monday, 10 March 2008

I think sucks when a big company like DC would steal from the little guys, when they have a whole creative team who could have came up with their own title for a comp. Next thing you some big company will try to steal the "Brooklyn Bike Riders" and use it for their own personal gains and goals...

Now read this:

The annual King of New York event was founded in the Bronx by Lou Perez in 1995. Lou ran the event every year until he handed over the reigns to me at baby bean Productions in 2006. With first Lou and now baby bean running the show, the event has gotten better and better, year after year.

In addition to the amazing athletes and enthusiastic crowds at the heart of the King of New York event, a team of great sponsors helps elevate the King of New York to the kick-ass event that it is. Not long ago, baby bean invited clothing and sneaker giant DC Shoes to join the King of New York event family of sponsors. We thought DC Shoes would be a great fit (no pun intended) but unfortunately, DC Shoes completely ignored our invitation.

Ads by Google
Shoe Repair
Online Bike
Bike Apparel
Bike Reviews

So it hit us like a ton of bricks when we learned that DC Shoes had stolen the "King of New York" name and concept for its own event. Adding insult to injury, DC Shoes suggested that the "King of New York" event was its own creation!

Now, Lou and I are all about live and let live, and we considered letting DC Shoes slide. But there's a problem with that: if we didn't stop DC Shoes from using the name again, riders and skaters, along with everyone else, would begin to confuse the two events. Which event was which? Who was sponsoring what? Which event is that great event that Lou Perez started way back when? When this happens, everyone loses, most importantly all the people who have put their blood and sweat into supporting the King of New York event since 1995.

So baby bean asked DC Shoes to recognize our rights to the "King of New York" event name and not to use the name "King of New York" for events in the future. DC Shoes refused. So we now find ourselves in the middle of an expensive and stressful law suit against DC Shoes. baby bean didn't want this fight, we would rather spend our time and resources creating great events. But DC Shoes – now part of Quiksilver, Inc., a company with over two billion dollars in annual sales – decided that it would rather hide behind an expensive team of lawyers than do the right thing.

It's sad that a company like DC Shoes, started by snowboarder Ken Block and skateboarder Damon Way as footwear industry outsiders, is really no different than any other big business. Apparently, DC Shoes thinks deep corporate pockets give it the right to roll right over the little guy.

baby bean is going to do its best to make sure the King of New York event stays where it's supposed to, but it's not going to be easy. If you'd like to help, or if you just want to express what you think, let us know at dcbullshit@hotmail.com . Pass this e-mail along and spread the truth. If you want to call DC Shoes or Quiksilver yourself, go right ahead. Phone numbers are 760-599-2999 for DC and 714-889-2200 for Quiksilver. Thanks for listening.

Danny Parks
baby bean productions

< Prev

Next >

[Back]

© 2008 Brooklyn Bike Riders
Joomla! is Free Software released under the GNU/GPL License.

EXHIBIT C(10)

Case 1:07-cv-03616 Groove Effect

Mac and Adobe Creative Suite 3. Now shipping.
Start supercharging your creativity today.

Front PageFeaturesW StyleM StyleArt & MusicEventsGallery

DC Shoes 'King of New York' Skate Competition

DC Shoes is sponsoring a skate competition in NYC called the 'King of New York'. The idea is five boroughs, one king. Basically they're holding five skate competitions, one each in The Bronx, Staten Island, Queens, Brooklyn, and Manhattan. At each one they choose a regional winner, then there's a final competition at the world famous Brooklyn Banks in lower Manhattan. Even though it's located in Manhattan the Banks get their name from being at the foot of the Brooklyn Bridge.

DC King of New York dates (specific locations on their site):

- 9/16 - Staten Island
- 9/17 - The Bronx
- 9/23 - Queens
- 9/24 - Brooklyn
- 9/30 - Manhattan

Thanks to Cool Hunting for the find.

Author

Sean | Co-Founder

Comments 02

D Music | 12.30.07

09.15.06

DC Shoes
'King of New York'Comment

Newsletter

enter e-mail :

Get weekly updates on latest articles at

Feature:

Read our latest interviews, and

Read More

Gallery

Post and view photos, parties, shows,

Read More

baby bean | 03.07.08

The Truth about DC Shoes and the King of New York

The annual King of New York event was founded in the Bronx by Lou Perez in 1995. Lou ran the event every year until he handed over the reigns to me at baby bean Productions in 2006. With first Lou and now baby bean running the show, the event has gotten better and better, year after year.

In addition to the amazing athletes and enthusiastic crowds at the heart of the King of New York event, a team of great sponsors helps elevate the King of New York to the kick-ass event that it is. Not long ago, baby bean invited clothing and sneaker giant DC Shoes to join the King of New York event family of sponsors. We thought DC Shoes would be a great fit (no pun intended) but unfortunately, DC Shoes completely ignored our invitation.

So it hit us like a ton of bricks when we learned that DC Shoes had stolen the "King of New York" name and concept for its own event. Adding insult to injury, DC Shoes suggested that the "King of New York" event was its own creation!

Now, Lou and I are all about live and let live, and we considered letting DC Shoes slide. But there's a problem with that: if we didn't stop DC Shoes from using the name again, riders and skaters, along with everyone else, would begin to confuse the two events. Which event was which? Who was sponsoring what? Which event is that great event that Lou Perez started way back when? When this happens, everyone loses, most importantly all the people who have put their blood and sweat into supporting the King of New York event since 1995.

So baby bean asked DC Shoes to recognize our rights to the "King of New York" event name and not to use the name "King of New York" for events in the future. DC Shoes refused. So we now find ourselves in the middle of an expensive and stressful law suit against DC Shoes. baby bean didn't want this fight, we would rather spend our time and resources creating great events. But DC Shoes – now part of Quiksilver, Inc., a company with over two billion dollars in annual sales – decided that it would rather hide behind an expensive team of lawyers than do the right thing.

It's sad that a company like DC Shoes, started by snowboarder Ken Block and skateboarder Damon Way as footwear industry outsiders, is really no different than any other big business. Apparently, DC Shoes thinks deep in the little guy.

Introducing THE LIFE INSURANCE SELECTOR

CLICK Re try it now!

Characters for the rest of life.
MetLife

PEABODY INSURANCE GROUP INC.

King of New York event stays where it's supposed to, but it's not what you want to express what you think, let us know and spread the truth. If you want to call DC Shoes or Quiksilver -599-2999 for DC and 714-889-2200 for Quiksilver. Thanks for

Email
Advertise with us

Please enter security code

Your Homepage (optional)

Be the King
of Your Castle

Subscribe to replies?

CONTRIBUTE | ADVERTISE | PRIVACY | CONTACT US

Copyright ©2002-2008 Grooveeffect

Refinance Loan:
$400,000 for $2,240/Month*
$300,000 for $1,680/Month*
$200,000 for $1,120/Month*

*Terms and conditions apply.

Advertise with us

EXHIBIT C(10)

Case 1:07-cv-03616

Groove™
EffectMac and Adobe Creative Suite 3. Now shipping.
Start supercharging your creativity today.Front PageFeaturesW StyleM StyleArt & MusicEventsGallery search

DC Shoes 'King of New York' Skate Competition

DC Shoes is sponsoring a skate competition in NYC called the 'King of New York'. The idea is five boroughs, one king. Basically they're holding five skate competitions, one each in The Bronx, Staten Island, Queens, Brooklyn, and Manhattan. At each one they choose a regional winner, then there's a final competition at the world famous Brooklyn Banks in lower Manhattan. Even though it's located in Manhattan the Banks get their name from being at the foot of the Brooklyn Bridge.

DC King of New York dates (specific locations on their site):

- 9/16 - Staten Island
- 9/17 - The Bronx
- 9/23 - Queens
- 9/24 - Brooklyn
- 9/30 - Manhattan

Thanks to Cool Hunting for the find.

Author

Sean | Co-Founder

Comments 02

D_Music | 12.30.07

09.15.06

DC Shoes
'King of New York'Comment

Newsletter

enter e-mail

Get weekly updates on latest articles and more

Feature:

Read our latest interviews, and more

Read More

Gallery

Post and view photos, parties, shows, events.

Read More

baby bean | 03.07.08

The Truth about DC Shoes and the King of New York

The annual King of New York event was founded in the Bronx by Lou Perez in 1995. Lou ran the event every year until he handed over the reigns to me at baby bean Productions in 2006. With first Lou and now baby bean running the show, the event has gotten better and better, year after year.

In addition to the amazing athletes and enthusiastic crowds at the heart of the King of New York event, a team of great sponsors helps elevate the King of New York to the kick-ass event that it is. Not long ago, baby bean invited clothing and sneaker giant DC Shoes to join the King of New York event family of sponsors. We thought DC Shoes would be a great fit (no pun intended) but unfortunately, DC Shoes completely ignored our invitation.

So it hit us like a ton of bricks when we learned that DC Shoes had stolen the "King of New York" name and concept for its own event. Adding insult to injury, DC Shoes suggested that the "King of New York" event was its own creation!

Now, Lou and I are all about live and let live, and we considered letting DC Shoes slide. But there's a problem with that: if we didn't stop DC Shoes from using the name again, riders and skaters, along with everyone else, would begin to confuse the two events. Which event was which? Who was sponsoring what? Which event is that great event that Lou Perez started way back when? When this happens, everyone loses, most importantly all the people who have put their blood and sweat into supporting the King of New York event since 1995.

So baby bean asked DC Shoes to recognize our rights to the "King of New York" event name and not to use the name "King of New York" for events in the future. DC Shoes refused. So we now find ourselves in the middle of an expensive and stressful law suit against DC Shoes. baby bean didn't want this fight, we would rather spend our time and resources creating great events. But DC Shoes – now part of Quiksilver, Inc., a company with over two billion dollars in annual sales – decided that it would rather hide behind an expensive team of lawyers than do the right thing.

It's sad that a company like DC Shoes, started by snowboarder Ken Block and skateboarder Damon Way as footwear industry outsiders, is really no different than any other big business. Apparently, DC Shoes thinks deep down it's the little guy.

Introducing
THE LIFE INSURANCE SELECTOR

King of New York event stays where it's supposed to, but it's not what you want to express what you think, let us know at and spread the truth. If you want to call DC Shoes or Quiksilver -599-2999 for DC and 714-889-2200 for Quiksilver. Thanks for

CLICK to try it now!

Guaranteed for life.™

MetLife

Email
Advertise with us

Please enter security code

Your Homepage (optional)

LendingTree
WHEN BANKS COMPARE, YOU WIN!

Be the King
of Your Castle

Subscribe to replies?

CONTRIBUTE | ADVERTISE | PRIVACY | CONTACT US

Copyright ©2002-2008 Grooveeffect

Refinance Loan:
$400,000 for $2,240/Month*
$300,000 for $1,680/Month*
$200,000 for $1,120/Month*

*Terms and conditions apply.

Advertise with us

EXHIBIT C(11)

the News... the Team! We Like Video & Stuff E-mail Childstore

Why boycott DC

Posted: 2008-03-07 08:57

Latest in greed, rip off and company shadyness.. KHE anyone??

The annual King of New York event was founded in the Bronx by Lou Perez in 1995. Lou ran the event every year until he handed over the reigns to me at baby bean Productions in 2006. With first Lou and now baby bean running the show, the event has gotten better and better, year after year.

In addition to the amazing athletes and enthusiastic crowds at the heart of the King of New York event, a team of great sponsors helps elevate the King of New York to the kick-ass event that it is. Not long ago, baby bean invited clothing and sneaker giant DC Shoes to join the King of New York event family of sponsors. We thought DC Shoes would be a great fit (no pun intended) but unfortunately, DC Shoes completely ignored our invitation.

So it hit us like a ton of bricks when we learned that DC Shoes had stolen the "King of New York" name and concept for its own event. Adding insult to injury, DC Shoes suggested that the "King of New York" event was its own creation!

Now, Lou and I are all about live and let live, and we considered letting DC Shoes slide. But there's a problem with that: if we didn't stop DC Shoes from using the name again, riders and skaters, along with everyone else, would begin to confuse the two events. Which event was which? Who was sponsoring what? Which event is that great event that Lou Perez started way back when? When this happens, everyone loses, most importantly all the people who have put their blood and sweat into supporting the King of New York event since 1995.

So baby bean asked DC Shoes to recognize our rights to the "King of New York" event name and not to use the name "King of New York" for events in the future. DC Shoes refused. So we now find ourselves in the middle of an expensive and stressful law suit against DC Shoes. baby bean didn't want this fight, we would rather spend our time and resources creating great events. But DC Shoes – now part of Quiksilver, Inc., a company with over two billion dollars in annual sales – decided that it would rather hide behind an expensive team of lawyers than do the right thing.

It's sad that a company like DC Shoes, started by snowboarder Ken Block and skateboarder Damon Way as footwear industry outsiders, is really no different than any other big business. Apparently, DC Shoes thinks deep corporate pockets give it the right to roll right over the little guy.

baby bean is going to do its best to make sure the King of New York event stays where it's supposed to, but it's not going to be easy. If you'd like to help, or if you just want to express what you think, let us know at dcbullshit@hotmail.com. Pass this e-mail along and spread the truth. If you want to call DC Shoes or Quiksilver yourself, go right ahead. Phone numbers are 780-599-2999 for DC and 714-889-2200 for Quiksilver. Thanks for listening.

Danny Parks
baby bean productions

redaktörn

2008-03-10 02:26

man skiter i det blå skäpet heter det ju för fan

erik Lindgren

2008-03-09 22:25

skit i alla garderober ni kan! You want the truth? You can't handle the truth

Anonym nr. 2

2008-03-08 21:51

Nu sket någon i garderoben

redaktörn

2008-03-08 13:13

hoppsan hoppsan

Anonym @ flybikesbmx.com/index.php?lang=en&seccion=news

2008-03-08 00:07

Det är ju ungefär som ett svenskt företag vid namn rite.se som försöker åka snålskjuts på andra.

Nu har dom tagit åt sig åran för Winterjam på Fly Bikes hemsida också.

<http://flybikesbmx.com/index.php?lang=en&seccion=news>redaktörn

2008-03-07 20:11

>
Njæ snott en idé som en kille slittigt, fixat, testat men aldrig hade råd att ta patent (ca 100kakor) på och bara låtsas som ingenting. Visserligen kunde de det utan en patent, men när ölburkshäddset blir dissat överallt, ska de dessutom sno en grym idé. Rakt av typ. Som tur var tog ett annat företag och gjorde produkten i fråga och hjälpte killen istället, såg till så han fick både cred o cash. KHE hade inte ens fått det om de hade frågat om de kunde hjälpa till och för sig, men ändå.

2008-03-07 16:13

Vad har detta med KHE att göra?

oscar. @ www.norrkopinghardcore.com

2008-03-07 13:28

hoppas du inser att ingen vettig bakfull människa orkar läsa såhär mycke text.... o grattis jep föresten!

Post comment

Name

E-mail

Homepage

Comment

In order to submit your comment you will have to type in the code below in the text field. The code may contain both letters and digits.

37E9